

Petzold Case Study

“As a result of working with Artaius, we are fully confident that all of our non-core financial duties are being professionally taken care of, so that we can focus our energy on more important issues”

Established for over 60 years, Buckinghamshire based Petzold and Company is one of the leading packaging machinery and material solutions providers in the UK. Providing packaging solutions for anything from pet foods to vegetables, Petzold provides services to a vast and varied client base including a number of major national brands and blue chip companies.

Petzold has employed the services of Artaius since it was founded.

Nick Petzold, Owner and General Manager of Petzold comments: “Obviously when choosing to outsource a financial service, it is extremely important to find a provider that can not only provide you with the level of service that you require but who you can trust.

“Having worked previously worked with Wilder Coe Chartered Accountants for some time, we established a very successful working relationship with Alfred Levy, a partner at that firm, who helped to provide us with a similar type of outsourcing service. Therefore, when Alfred decided to launch a sister company, Artaius, dedicated solely to the financial outsourcing area, we took the natural progression to move to Artaius and have been working with the firm ever since.”

Artaius perform the full range of Petzold’s bookkeeping duties, including their payroll functions, the preparation and filing of their quarterly management accounts and their preparation and filing of our end of year returns.

Nick continued: “As a result of working with Artaius, we are fully confident that all of our non-core financial duties are being professionally taken care of, so that we can focus our energy on more important issues.

“Even better, because Alfred continues to act as a partner of Wilder Coe, he is also able to provide us with expert advice on the full spectrum of taxation matters via their tax department as well as general financial advice. The time saved by being able to effectively complete two equally pivotal business requirements via one source has proved invaluable.

He finished: “Artaius have maintained a consistently outstanding service throughout my time working with them. They are reliable, professional, quick to respond to any queries and the staff are always very pleasant.

“I cannot fault them and have absolutely no complaints.”
